DISCUSSION:

The site consists of the former Ellington Air Force Base, which was active 1917-1976. The site is now operated by NASA, Texas Air National Guard, and the City of Houston Aviation Department. There are several sources of contamination on the former base, but does not appear to have impacted human health. There is a former landfill, transformers that contain PCBs were stored, maintenance facilities, underground storage tanks, firing range, an incinerator. This site does not appear to be a candidate for the National Priorities List (NPL) under the federal Superfund program. The facility will be given the designation of "No Further Remedial Action Planned" (NFRAP). This does not preclude any future actions by the State or other federal environmental programs.
